Our Intent. We are committed to safeguarding the privacy of users who use the Free School Meals Eligibility Checker (FSM) website service and we will only use the information we collect about you lawfully.

Changes to Data Protection Legislation. Data Protection legislation is currently going through a period of change. The introduction of the European Union's General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) is the basis of change and has been applied from the 25 May 2018 by The Data Protection Act 2018.

Data Subject's Privacy Notice. This Privacy Notice should be read by Data Subjects, i.e. "you," or any identifiable person using the London Grid for Learning (LGfL) FSM Eligibility Checker service.

The Data Controller. On behalf of the data controllers, who are schools (including nurseries and colleges), the LGfL provides an FSM website to enable them to claim additional funding to enhance education and provide free school meals for eligible children.

The Data Processor. This FSM website <https://pps.lgfl.org.uk> is owned and operated by LGfL. Our contact details are:

- Email: fsm@lgfl.net
- Mail: 9th Floor, 10 Exchange Square, Primrose Street, London, EC2A 2BR.

Data Protection Officer (DPO). Each school (including nurseries and colleges) will have a DPO. LGfL have appointed a DPO who can be reached at dataprotectionenquiries@lgfl.net. All DPOs, including the LGfL's, fulfil a number of roles one of which is to be the primary and independent point of contact for Data Subjects, namely you. To raise concerns regarding the processing of your personal data by the LGfL, please email or send a letter to our contact details above, at which point the enquiry will be forwarded to the DPO of the Data Controller or respective member of staff for action.

Purpose of Processing Personal Data. We collect personal data on this website primarily to support the process of FSM Eligibility Checker service. The FSM service allows parents/guardians to check their eligibility for free school meals, therefore enabling the school to apply for additional funding to improve children's education, including the provision of free school meals.

Lawful Basis of Processing Personal Data When Visiting This Website. The lawful basis of processing your personal data when using the FSM checker is assessed to be: Consent. Namely you, the parent or guardian must agree for your details to be submitted into the FSM checker.

Categories of Personal Data Processed by LGfL. The personal data collected during the FSM process is to support the eligibility checking process. Across all the LGfL processes and services we will seek to ensure all personal data is accurate and up to date. The personal data which we hold will be held securely and in accordance with our internal data protection and security policies.

The information required for FSM is:

Parent's/Guardian's first name;

Parent's/Guardian's last name;

Parent's/Guardian's date of birth; and

Parent's/Guardian's National Insurance (NI) Number (or National Asylum Seeker Service (NASS) Number).

Category of Recipients of Personal Data. LGfL acts as a Data Processor on behalf of schools (includes nurseries and colleges for the purposes of this Privacy Notice) to enable them to apply for additional education funding for eligible children. This is achieved by parents/guardians, or the school on their behalf, conducting an online check by entering their personal details and the name and school of at least one child.

The FSM checker links to a Department of Education (DfE) portal which links to a Department of Work and Pensions (DWP) database. This enables an immediate decision to be available to the parent/guardian making the check.

Schools that have 'FSM Administrators' will be able to see the results of all parents/guardians connected with their school and their children. On occasions, schools may do the FSM check on behalf of parents /guardians who have consented to this.

For parents who are eligible for FSM, schools will be able to submit applications to their respective local authority or if appropriate directly to the DfE, to claim the additional funding.

The results from the FSM eligibility checking service merely provide information to schools that some of the parents are eligible. Local authorities can have FSM Administrators set up also, so that they can see who is eligible at their respective schools. It is up to each school how they work with their local authorities for processing the claims.

Transfer of Personal Data Outside the EEA (European Economic Area). There is no personal data involved in FSM transferred outside the EEA.

Sensitive Personal Data. There is no Sensitive Personal Data collected and processed under the FSM process. However, it is recognised the economic situation of eligible parents/guardians must be handled within strictest confidence, whilst carrying out the claiming of additional funding from the DfE.

Retention of Personal Data. The data collected to support FSM is held until the Student leaves an LGfL connected school or college. Schools and LAs may hold the data obtained from the FSM Checker for longer due to the requirements of the Finance Act if it is used to apply for the Pupil Premium. This time period is to enable ease of checking by schools to allow the claiming of Pupil Premium as appropriate throughout the duration of a Student's education, this could be up to 25 years of age.

Data Subject's Rights. Under data protection legislation you have a number of Rights which we have outlined below:

Right of Access. You are entitled to access your personal data so that you are aware of and can verify the lawfulness of the processing. The reasons for this will be formally notified to you and your rights to appeal to the UK Information Commissioner's Office (ICO) <https://ico.org.uk> will be highlighted.

This can be achieved directly through logging into the LGfL USO account and amending the details about yourself. LGfL will support your request under instruction from the relevant school or Local Authority or school, so you should have a response within one month of your request. In the unlikely event LGfL does not take action to the request for rectification, LGfL will inform you of your rights to complain or seek judicial remedy.

The Right to Erasure does not provide an absolute 'right to be forgotten,' especially once the FSM processing has started. However, you do have a right to have personal data erased and to prevent processing in specific circumstances:

- Where the personal data is no longer necessary in relation to the purpose for which it was originally collected/processed;
- When you withdraw consent (and this is the basis of processing);
- When you object to the processing and there is no overriding legitimate interest for continuing the processing;

The Right to Data Portability only applies:

- To personal data you have provided to LGfL;
- Where the processing is based on your consent or for the performance of a contract; and
- When processing is carried out by automated means.

Right to Object. You have the right to object to:

Processing based on legitimate interests or the performance of a task in the public interest/exercise of official authority (including profiling);

Direct marketing (including profiling); and

Processing for purposes of scientific/historical research and statistics.

Automated Decision Making and Profiling. The FSM does do automated decision-making with the equivalent of legal effect, i.e. eligibility to claim free school meals and other additional funding for the school that the pupil attends. This is based upon DWP and DfE policy, therefore if a parent or guardian disagrees they should approach the school for an appeal or understanding of how the decision was based.
